

What is the NAMI Homefront Education Program?

NAMI Homefront is a free, six-session education program for family, friends and significant others of Military Service Members and Veterans with mental health conditions. It focuses on the unique needs of military and Veteran communities, such as post-deployment and post-discharge transitions.

The course is designed to help family members understand and support their loved one while maintaining their own well-being. The trained teachers of this course are also family members who have experience with military culture and know what it's like to have a loved one living with symptoms of a mental health condition.

NAMI Ozaukee, the local affiliate of the National Alliance on Mental Illness, will offer the Homefront Education Program in the spring of 2023, from April 4th to May 8th. The class will be held Tuesdays from 6pm to 8:30pm in Grafton, WI. Class size is limited, so please call 262-243-3627 to reserve a spot early.

Participant Perspectives

NAMI Homefront is an adaptation of the evidence-based NAMI Family-to-Family Education Program, which has been taught in VA health facilities since the late 1990s.

"It's the first step I have taken to get more involved personally with the VA. The first step I have taken to take care of me."

— Mother of a Veteran after graduating from a NAMI Homefront class held at the VA in NY
